Program(S):
- VIRTUAL, American Catracho — (Grades 3-12)

  American Catracho explores the contemporary experience of an immigrant’s journey to the US. Inspired by Wilfredo’s own immigration story from Honduras as a child, Catracho takes his individual narrative and expands it through the inclusion of various harrowing and heroic immigrant circumstances and stories from Latin America and around the world. The suite is inspired by poetry and personal accounts from immigrant children and youth. Catracho is a slang term used to describe someone from Honduras. The program features excerpts exploring themes such as the first 200 steps in a new land to the challenges of settling into a new place, learning a new language, assimilating new cultures and making a new home. This moving and timely performance is appropriate for students of all ages. The presentation includes excerpts from the full evening suite with interviews with Artistic Director Wilfredo Rivera and Composer Joe Cerqua. Format: On-Demand, Pre-Recorded Length: 45 minutes

Fee: $2,500-$3,500/2 weeks On-Demand, Pre-Recorded

- VIRTUAL, Workshop with Wilfredo Rivera & Dance Artists (Grades 3-12)

  Students and teachers are led through a series of engaging activities to introduce the physicality of dance and dance composition foundation. Students will create expressive phrases motivated by their experiences in addition to responses and thoughts inspired by American Catracho subject matter. Students are also introduced to actual steps they saw the company perform on stage. The activities are designed to meet the students at their grade level and appropriate proficiency. Format: Online Live, Interactive Length: 45 minutes

Fee: $600

<td>Description:</td>
<td>mwanza wa mwili ni roho (2019) African-American choreographer Monique Haley was inspired by West African maxims from a book entitled African Cultural Values: An Introduction by Kwame Gyekye. Building on this communal foundation with Cerqua Rivera’s artists over two years led to a powerfully rooted piece of art that celebrates the resilient journey of individuals within a community. The suite’s exuberant style is expressed through the blending of African dance, American Jazz and Music, and the creators’ own unique contemporary voices. The presentation includes the full work plus interviews with Artistic Director Wilfredo Rivera, Composer Joe Cerqua and Choreographer Monique Haley. PROGRAM(S):
• VIRTUAL, Offbeat! The Lowdown on American Tap Dance - (Grades: 4-12) Offbeat! The Lowdown on American Tap Dance highlights the history of tap dance, one of the true American art forms, and one directly attributable to Black people in this country. From the origins of tap dance, we learn that the use of the drum in the Slave Rebellion led to the banning of instruments and the use of feet became a way to both create music and to communicate. We set into historical context the importance of New York City in the 1840s and the blending of Irish American percussive dance with the Black art form of tap dance. The unique history of tap is demonstrated through the diversity, tenacity, and innovative contributions by renowned dancers, choreographers and improvisors who have become cultural icons.
  • Format: On-Demand, Pre-Recorded Length: 45-minute performance
  • Fee: $2,500-$3,500/2 weeks On-Demand, Pre-Recorded

• VIRTUAL, Workshop with Mark Yonally, Artistic Director - (Grades: 4-12) Mark Yonally brings tap dance to ALL levels, from kids in tennis shoes who have never danced before to kids with years of training under their belt. He is known for his ability to make dance engaging, approachable and fun, including the use of games and outcome-based activities. Principles of the show will be reinforced, as kids learn and experience improvisation and drumming with the foot.
  • Format: Online, Interactive Workshop Length: 45 minutes
  • Fee: $600
Darrah Carr Dance

FDC is an urban dance company dedicated to celebrating the abundant richness of dance and culture from Africa and the Diaspora (Congo, West Africa, South America, the Caribbean).

Under the artistic direction of Funmilayo Chesney the goal of FDC is to enrich lives, embolden confidence, and empower people through dance, drama, music, and visual arts. FDC promises to educate on the healing powers of dance and diet while encouraging cross-cultural appreciation and expanding options by building strong leaders in classrooms and communities.

The dances of Fusha Dance Company celebrate events of the African culture such as planting and harvesting crops, welcoming of dignitaries, birth of triplets, scholastic and artistic achievements to name a few. FDC has specialized programs for events such as Kwanzaa, Black History Month, Dance Festivals, Cultural events, Healing classes and workshops. Arts in education programs and after school programs for children are also available.

FDC has been achieving its goal by conducting dance classes, teaching workshops, performance in schools and cultural centers, hospitals, prisons, cultural festivals, in the United States and overseas.

- Project MOVE School Partnership Programs - Our arts in education programming uses a multidisciplinary arts approach to design goal-specific workshops that meet state standards. Directors, Master Drummer and an Assistant, (in collaboration with classroom teachers) will take students and the school community on a journey through cultures by devising a culturally responsive performance that will incorporate acting, singing, dancing, drumming, visual arts, fashion, sign language, role-playing, experimentation, and more! Our arts program typically ends with a final performance for the school community’s viewing, on the 5th day.

Pre K-12, including self contained classes. 5 day residency includes performance.

Fee: $18,500

- Drum Circle/Ritmo Del Mondo - Director, Master Drummer and an Assistant will introduce the community to West African culture through traditional West African Dance and rhythms played live. Project MOVE can bring drums and other instruments for students to learn to play the rhythms while others simultaneously learn the dance and then switch. Students will have an opportunity to learn about and share their own cultures in the workshop through a cultural rhythm challenge designed to promote cultural inclusivity and foster respect for our differences, through the shared language of rhythm.

- BOLD - BOLD (Builders, Organizers, and Leaders through Dance) is Urban Bush Women's unique approach to facilitating a dialogue within a group. We facilitate multiple workshop possibilities for a variety of different groups and contexts from dance studio to classroom to staff retreat, using a unique blend of dialogue and movement. Leveraging dance as a catalyst for social change & consistently seeking the broadest range of engagement possible has led UBW to train rigorously in analyzing racism and its manifestations in group dynamics, and in the field of brain compatible dance education (a holistic practice rather than dance instruction as mimicry)—in addition to concert dance technique & performance. To learn more about how to bring a BOLD workshop to your organization, please email UBW BOLD Coordinator Pinar Goodstone at bold@urbanbushwomen.org

Grades 9-12

Fee: $400
Oral History Project - Oral history is about the stories of everyday people in our families, schools and neighborhoods. By studying oral history, students learn to listen carefully to the memories and reflections of their elders and community members. For example, students studied the anti-war movement of the Vietnam War in an 8th grade class and interviewed activists, veterans and refugees who were engaged with the movement. A sixth grade class explored games, like stick ball, hopscotch Hmong Ball Toss, that their parents and grandparents played. Students learn interviewing and storytelling skills.

Program(s):

Virtual, Stories and Songs in the Oral Tradition For hundreds of years throughout the African continent, people gathered and told stories. The tradition may be the strongest in the West African countries of Senegal, Gambia, Guinea and Mali. Stories were the way the beliefs, mythology, cultural identity, history, and shared community values of a people were taught and preserved. The tradition continued when Africans were brought to America. Charlotte selects from her wide repertoire of stories and songs from the African and African American oral traditions.

PROGRAM(S):

African Storytelling Assembly— Ama Karikari-Yawson, Esq. will perform her best-selling fable, Sunne’s Gift, accompanied by captivating drumming. After the lively performance, she will lead students through age-appropriate questions surrounding Sunne’s Gift and bullying. This program is customizable so organizations that have specific concerns about certain types of bullying such as economic bullying, racial bullying, or LGBT bullying can have the session tailored to their needs. Ama will also incorporate research-backed questions, answers, and oaths with respect to bullying prevention. In the spirit of Sunne’s Gift, students will be asked to share their gifts with the audience. This assembly or classroom workshop is perfect for bullying prevention month, literacy celebrations, Black History Month, Kwanzaa, and or Juneteenth.

Fees: $600 per hour

Journey Fairytale Land vs. Goldilocks Hybrid Program Presented— Although most of us think of the classic fairy tale, Goldilocks and the Three Bears, as just a simple story, it can be viewed as a deeper tale about the law, social justice, and conflict resolution. In this workbook, students analyze the classic fairy tale, Goldilocks and the Three Bears, and the play, Fairytale Land vs. Goldilocks, from literary, legal, and social justice perspectives before performing the Fairytale Land vs. Goldilocks play.

Students complete assignments on story analysis, play analysis, and reflection on the topic of prejudice. This program culminates with students conducting a mock trial of Goldilocks using the play provided.

Fee: Minimum: $2,500 for Three Days (Three 45-60 minute Class Periods per Day)
Additional In-Person sessions are $800 per Day

Didgeridoo Down Under Show: Australian Music - Education - Entertainment!—(Grades K-12, program is adjusted to different grade levels) G’day! The DDU Show is an energetic fusion of Australian music, culture, science, comedy, character building, and audience participation. The didgeridoo has been played by Aboriginal Australians for at least 1,500 years, and is known for its otherworldly sound. During the show, DDU performer Rob Thomas plays a variety of exotic didgeridoos and worldly percussion instruments, demonstrating various playing styles and upbeat rhythms. He also uses a multitude of props – including motivational signs, vocabulary lists, maps, globes, artifacts, artwork and puppets – to deliver educational lessons and empowering messages about diversity, kindness, tolerance, and respect. DDU is interactive, educational, motivational and super fun for all ages!

<td>The Forgotten Kingdom</td>
<td>Grades 5-12+The Forgotten Kingdom immerses audiences in the memories of a family confronting an unraveling, multiethnic Ottoman world, brought to life through theatrically projected sand animation, narration blending memoir and poetry, and a riveting musical score. The cinematographic score reframes Ottoman Jewish women's song, drawing on the bittersweet rawness of Tango; the rhythmic fire of classical Arabic percussion; and gorgeous vocal harmonies with Western classical music's harmonic roots. Sand and music intertwine with &quot;masterfully narrated&quot; (Welland Port Colburn Concert Association) multimedia adventure that &quot;explodes with artistry, refinement, and excitement.&quot; (Hebrew Union College, OH). Category: Music

Grades: 4-12

Program(s):

- The American Banjo—(Grades: 4-6, 7-8 and 9-12) - Where did it come from and how does it work? The banjo is a drum with strings that made its way to America through the know-how of enslaved people from Africa. Over time, the black and white cultures mixed and evolved into what became American folk song, bluegrass, blues, old-time music, ragtime and more. The banjo evolved as an instrument and was a central part to many of these styles. In this workshop, Miles shows and demonstrates a variety of instruments from his personal collection. Students hear the instrument in the hands of a true master player and hear stories about its evolution.

  Format: Online Live, Interactive, Length: 45-60 minutes

  Fee: $600

- Create an American Folk Song—(Grades: 4-6, 7-8 and 9-12) What is a folk song? Who writes them? Who are the folks? How do you know? In this workshop, tailored for each age group, Michael examines the “songs of the people” to show a few examples, and then together with student participation, creates a new American folk song.

Grades: K-12
Contact: storytimetheater@yahoo.com

PROGRAM(S):

- Expressive Elocution (Grades 3-12) – This program provides students with arts integrated theatrical workshop sessions and residencies where they learn how to vocally explore and express themselves. Through age-appropriate games and exercises for both listening skills and vocal production, students learn how to control and maximize specific aspects of their speech such as volume, speed, and pitch. Physical awareness, breath control, claiming anxiety, maintaining focus and engaging an audience are also explored. Using curricular connections (i.e. acting as a historical figure in a living wax museum, presenting a TED talk, etc.), Expressive Elocution gives all the tools to be heard, to be understood, and most importantly, to be confident.

- Expressive Elocution for ENL Students - This Expressive Elocution program is geared specifically for the ENL population. Its primary educational goal is to increase clarity, confidence and expressive capabilities of the oral presentation skills of non-native English speaking students through a series of Arts-in-Education elocution workshops.

- Multicultural Voices (Middle School- High School) - ENL students share their immigration stories, poetry, heroes and more while working on English oral proficiency.

Fees: Program workshop and residencies range from $500 up depending on the number of sections and number of visits.
(More information continues on the next listing.)
PROGRAM(S):

- Multicultural Mentors - A program coordinating high school and elementary ENL students with the end goal of producing a show partially scripted by the students. This program uses theater to enable students to share their cultural heritage while becoming more comfortable speaking in English.

Fees: Program workshop and residencies range from $500 up depending on the number of sections and number of visits.

Contact: Marci@theatrethree.com

PROGRAM(S):

• From the Fires: Voices of the Holocaust - From the Fires: Voices of the Holocaust is a six-character play based on extensive research on the era 1937 to 1945 in Europe. THEATRE THREE presents its acclaimed production, seen by over 100,000 people. It traces a young girl’s life during this dark era living in Berlin, through the Nuremberg Laws, to deportation to Auschwitz and focuses on her experiences. Themes of identity, segregation, persecution, and the deprivation of human rights are explored in a dramatic setting through the main character, Rachel Hannah Gold. The play is fiction, but the times, the places, the experiences chronicled unfortunately are not. This is a powerful performance best suited for middle and high schools. View a video clip, download a Study Guide at www.theatrethree.com under “Educational Touring.”

Fees: for one performance $1,350 and $1,300 for additional performances following the first, same building.

STORYTIME AT THE PLAYHOUSE “Molly in Wonderland” (ANTI-BULLYING) 2nd Season
35 minutes Optional 10 minute Question & Answer Period
We will come in person to your school or venue, or stream live into your classroom. Join Dougie J. and The Puppet Brigade for a show with songs, topical features, and an original story with a moral. Molly the Dolly is the lead in her school play. She discovers that one of her cast mates is being bullied and stands up. Identifies the kinds of bullying and offers solutions to help prevent it.

Fees: STORYTIME at the PLAYHOUSE is $950 in person, $600 Virtual.
VISUAL ARTS
• Icons of the Hindu Texts as Superheroes - Ancient Indian epics offer a dramatic tapestry of engaging mythology, ripe with characters possessing divine powers. These stories imbue the culture with its values, similar to how Superhero lore reflects and shapes American culture. This workshop is a synergy of Superhero comics, Hindu religious texts and the power of art as a learning tool. It harnesses students' interest in Superhero stories and the comic medium to introduce the Hindu texts through comparative study. Through an interactive presentation and a teacher-led art project, concepts such as Reincarnation, Ahimsa, Moksha, Dharma and Karma - influential tenets of Hindu Indian culture - will be compared and contrasted with Western Superhero ethics, making them relatable and easily comprehensible to the American student. (Recommended classes to pair with: Art, Design, Social Studies, English Literature, Creative Writing, and any Literacy and Cultural classes.)

*Virtual Programs Include - virtual presentation, discussion, and art lessons with worksheets and handouts emailed to the teacher. Materials delivered to schools for distribution to students.

*Fees for Virtual Program: Sessions are customizable. $500 for two class period workshops with additional $200 per class period. Multi-day/week-long residencies are available for students to create full comic books. Material fee: $10-$15 in school with sharing supplies, $15-25 per kid for personal kits--best for virtual (price varies depending on the length of the project--from a 1-page comic to a full book)

(More information continues on the next listing.)
COMIC CREATION: The Multi-Verse - is a multi-lingual, literacy, and visual arts comic creation workshop for bilingual students or students learning a second or third language in a language class. In this workshop, the core aspects of major languages, in particular any language that is the subject of the class (Ms. Annam will confer with the teacher about language goals), are taken into account in order to create a multilingual comic page, while books can be created in the week-long residencies. Essential drawing skills are taught such as direct facial and physical expression and settings to improve essential finer drawing skills that help visual storytelling and written communication. The ice-breaker game, "Pic-tion-ate", a translation game developed by Ms. Annam for this class, can be played in person or virtually and helps warm students up to the main concepts in the workshop; translation, drawing, and working in a panel layout, which is exclusive to the comic medium and the crux of sequential art. Art-making helps students embrace and process language and literacy while expressing themselves and having fun! (Recommended classes to pair with Art, Design, Language classes, ENL classes, English Literature, Creative Writing, and any Literacy and Cultural classes.)

Virtual Programs Include - virtual presentation, discussion, and art lessons with worksheets and handouts emailed to the teacher. Materials delivered to schools for distribution to students.

Fees for Virtual Program: The approximate price range for Presentation and Instruction: Minimum 2 class periods $500 and $200 per additional class. Multi-day/week-long residencies are available for students to create full comic books. Material fee: $10-$15 in school with sharing supplies, $15-25 per kid for personal kits--best for virtual (price varies depending on the length of the project--from a 1-page comic to a full book)

Program(s):

- Autobiography in the Age of the Selfie - Selfies may seem like a belly button gazing activity but they give us insight into how young people see themselves. As a teaching artist, I use selfies to launch students into a discussion on cultural identity, mood, tone, background, foreground, etc and connect these elements to writing a short memoir or personal statement for college. Learn how to engage youth with viewing famous works of art by artists who have crafted self-portraits, like Frida Kahlo and explore how to use poetic elements like imagery and metaphor into writing. We'll examine selfies and fine art as visual prompts, poems, and best college essays from the New York Times. Special attention will be paid to valuing the cultural identities of the youth we teach and reflect that in the poems we compose/read and art we create/view.

Multicultural Potter’s Wheel program – Assembly / Fundraiser, K – 12

A Journey into Multicultural Ceramic Design (Individual classes or group assembly)

Cliff is a prof. artist and teacher who provides a live demonstration program tailored to meet the needs of your school’s curriculum. Students marvel as a lump of clay is transformed into ceramic shapes, then into a work of art. Students explore Native American, Greek, Asian, Latin American, and African cultures. They become part of the design process, engaging the artist as the vase emerges.

Optional: Student may partake in a group collaborative team building effort that results in a customized vessel. Students display finished pieces showcased to view or a PTA fundraiser.

Native American, African and Greek Vessel Making
Hands-on programs are culturally specific. i.e., Native American, Greek, Africa. I teach it like my college classes so it's very challenging and fast paced. Students rise to the challenge, and they love it. This program is great for starters because it allows each student to build a connection to a culture that is rich in patterns, symbols, imagery, and ties into the curriculum. Every student makes an actual ceramic vessel using 5-6 advanced ceramic techniques under my supervision.

Tile making and mural program – Day in Clay
Tiles are a wonderful way to create individual 3D works of art in clay that can become a mural that is greater than the sum of their parts. Sometimes, I work with a graduating class to create a legacy tile mural. Students take great pride in seeing their tiles permanently installed in an architectural school setting.

Programs for Students With Disabilities
I am sensitive to student’s skill levels and provide age and capability appropriate arts education. Including students with: Autism, Downs syndrome, Williams syndrome, and children with speech and language impairment.

Clay provides a sensory experience, although everyone reacts differently, each project can address those sensitivities. Part of the workshop explores those impressions of clay with its textural and sensory nature. Using pictures and images is useful to develop a relationship to working in clay.

Whether it is hand over hand contact with varying degrees of motor skills the project will address them and allow for a satisfying experience. Sometimes working on a flat surface like tile work is the best remedy for to explore textures and patterns. Visual aids are also distributed and discusses as part of the program.

Professional Development

Staff Development provides arts faculty with the techniques, cultural history and hands-on problem solving to bring clay into the classroom. The training mirrors my college-level teaching—where engagement and sharing expertise is paramount. Lessons are tied into Native American, Asian, African, Latin American, and Greek cultures. I provide advanced hand-building techniques and the science behind glazing, painting, and firing. Staff development is custom-tailored to meet the needs of your school’s faculty. The best way to problem-solve with students is a hands-on approach and learning the limits of the materials to advance their success while integrating it with ready-to-go lesson plans. A lively Q&A is always encouraged!

- Raku - Go back in time and learn to fire ceramic forms in this ancient technique. Raku firing is an incredible ancient Japanese ceramic technique that has been used for centuries. Students will create size appropriate work with Raku clay and learn to build a Raku kiln at their school to fire the work. Prior to the school visit, Gina will work with teachers to advise on student projects to be created, glazed and fired before she visits. Gina will drop off various glazes before the workshop. Once the projects are bisque fired, Gina will coordinate with teachers for a visiting date. She will then arrive with all the materials to build the Raku kiln and the firing of the work will commence. Students will all be assigned jobs and work together throughout the day removing the work from the kiln and completing the process by putting the pieces in garbage cans with combustibles to create the final effect. Time permitting, Gina will demonstrate on the potter’s wheel and give a slide presentation of her work. The book 500 Raku features Gina’s work and has many great examples of Raku for students.

- Virtual Raku Program - Students create virtually with Gina Mars through zoom. She will then collect the work, fire it off site, offer a video of the firing, then return the works to the school to be distributed back to students.

Fees: $1,200 (full day workshop, does not include cost of clay)

Programs:

- Ajrakh (Block Ink) Printing - Artist and educator, Puneeta Mittal, will discuss the ancient art of Indian Block Printing and current trends in modern fashion and textile design. Students will learn how these trends relate back to patterns that Indian designers have been using for centuries. The hands-on workshop will demonstrate simple solutions to create your own stamp for block printing on fabric. The printing can be a simple single-color stamping or use multiple stamps with more complicated, multi-color designs. The same technique can be applied to other mediums such as paper, clay, metal, leather, etc.

- Chau (Stealth) Mask Making - Puneeta Mittal will discuss the folk-art tradition of Indian Chau dance clay masks. The hands-on workshop will demonstrate simple solutions to create your stealth mask using clay slabs and color derived from earth pigments. Once the mask is completed, students can apply other mediums such as paper, fabric, leather, metal, beads, feathers, sparkles, etc. to establish the final mask.

- Lippan Tiles - Puneeta Mittal will discuss the folk-art tradition of Indian Lippan Murals with clay and mirrors. The hands-on workshop will demonstrate how to create Lippan tiles using clay slabs and enhance them with mirrors. This project can be made successfully with air dry clay, too.

Fees: Demonstration and Presentation fee $150 per class session. Number of workshops per day Minimum 3 and Maximum 5. Hands-on workshop details and price list quote upon request. Material and firing fees extra based on size of the class.
